Ampol Super GT is the only top quality motor oil in Australia that is not available world-wide.

Yet it does everything that other top quality friction-modified motor oils can do.

Friction modified Ampol Super GT is fuel-efficient compared to ordinary oils. It will protect your engine through all the temperature extremes you are likely to meet here in Australia!

And it can reduce wear on your engine.

Ampol Super GT is not available world-wide because it has been designed specifically for Australian conditions. Australian cars. Conditions unique in the world.

Ask any car manufacturer. There is no other country quite like Australia.

No other oil quite like Ampol Super GT.

The fence for safety & style.

A Cyclone Pool-Line fence combines built-in safety features with stylish good looks to complement large or small pool areas.

For example, our Pool-Line fence has a patented gate-catch that requires a lift and pull action. — An almost impossible task for most young children to master.

The smart square posts, clean looking panels and the return-spring fitted gates are available in natural zinc or colour coated in fashion colours of brown, green or white over a galvanised base.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

It is fitting to review the happenings in soccer since the date of the last report.

First there has been the adoption of the new conference system at the national level which is to be retained for the 1985 year, but in respect of which a revised and reduced competition has been proposed for 1986.

The proposals already made embody a recommendation that only one club from this State be admitted to the proposed national competition for 1986, a proposal which has already been vigorously resisted and will continue to be resisted by this Federation and its delegates to the Australian Soccer Federation.

We are fortunate in having Mr. Jim Carapetis as a member of the N.S.L. executive and we can rely on him to put the South Australian position with force and clarity.

For me the outstanding event for South Australia for the year 1984 was the award for the 1984 Player of the Year to Sergio Melta of the Adelaide City Soccer Club.

For those fortunate enough to be present at the National Soccer League's presentation dinner the announcement and presentation of Sergio Melta's award was one of the great thrills of a lifetime.

Turning to our own local competition, the format for the Rothmans First Division introduced for this year has produced some very good soccer and whilst that format will be retained for 1985, there appears to be no certainty that it will be continued in 1986. As in the national league, the large number of competing teams seems to be the major bone of contention.

Some mention must be made in this message of the present situation in connection with Rowley Park. With the government's withdrawal of the acquisition notice served on the board, the property is now available for what is termed in the planning legislation "Special uses" which means that any proposed use, apart from quite a number which are prohibited, must be subject to Hindmarsh Council consent.

That position was complicated with the announcement, during the year, of the Bowden-Brompton-Ridleyton Draft Strategy Plan which is under the consideration of the State Government, and the Hindmarsh Council. In that proposal Rowley Park is in an area proposed as the Ridleyton Residential Area and to some extent any plans by the board for the future utilisation of Rowley Park will have to be considered in the context of the Draft Strategy Plan.

It remains only for me to thank on behalf of all connected with soccer in South Australia, our sponsors and the media, particularly the press, for their continual support during the year.

The contributions by Rothmans, Ampol, P.G.H., Coca-Cola and the S.A. Brewing Company are greatly appreciated, and on your behalf I extend to those organisations our sincere thanks.

We look forward to their future support and I express the hope that the litigation with the tobacco companies have mounted against the rulings of the Australian Broadcasting Tribunal in relation to the advertising of tobacco products on sports grounds will be successful.

If the playing of soccer or any other

BOTTLE BANKS

RECYCLED GLASS IS MONEY FROM THE BANK

South Australians aren't usually stupid or spend thrift and yet they throw well over $100,000 out with their garbage each year. It's not crisp dollars they cram into the bins, it's glass. Glass is one of the few totally recyclable substances in common use. All glass containers are recyclable giving great benefits to the community. At the same time keeping glass containers out of the waste disposal system reduces the transport costs and land-fill problems experienced by your local Council.

Recycling is also good conservation reducing the use of valuable raw materials such as sand, soda ash, shellgrit and energy. All glass containers are worth money so don't throw them away. Keep them out of the garbage, save them up and take them to your nearest Bottle Bank. These depots are experienced in sorting and returning glass containers to either Bottlers, where bottles are washed, sterilised and refilled, or to Australian Glass Manufacturers where they are crushed and melted down for the manufacture of new bottles.

Your Bottle Bank is waiting to pay you cash for your glass containers — it's money in the bag.

If you don't need the money how about donating your glass to charity? There are many worthwhile causes that raise substantial funds from glass recycling.

If you haven't a favourite charity, you can maybe leave the glass for your friendly garbo or the kid down the street. When it comes to charity "good deeds come from glass". Glass is beautiful, useful and too valuable to throw away.

sport at a professional level is to be achieved and maintained, we must resist the activities of the noisy minorities who appear to have such great influence on the Australian Broadcasting Tribunal which appears not to realise that our wish to play sport in whatever form is at least as worthy of consideration as those who advocate in whatever form of disguise the complete prohibition on the use and consumption of tobacco and alcohol, and the Lord only knows what else.

The press coverage of soccer in this State is, I believe, the best of any of the Australian States, and we should all express our gratitude to the indefatigable Allan Crisp and Tom McKain and their assistants for the support they give to soccer.

FROM THE GENERAL SECRETARY

Once again, we are on the threshold of another season, and I feel we can look back on 1984 as a very successful year in which S.A.S.F. Board started making some important decisions relating to league compositions and overall structure of soccer in South Australia.

Various views, and thoughts, have been expressed as to what should be the next step to make our sport more attractive.

It is with a great deal of concern to most clubs and administrators that there appears to be some who are not prepared to comply with the S.A.S.F. rules and regulations and accept decisions of relevant authority, but prefer to take matters to a court of law.

If this is encouraged in any form whatsoever it will only lead to utter confusion and throw our well organised game into complete disorder.

I am quite confident that the members will not allow this to happen and if anyone is going to knock soccer then be sure it is not us.

Some of the highlights of the 1984 season were visits by four top European teams — Nottingham Forest, Glasgow Rangers, Juventus (Italy) and Iraklis of Greece. It was most exciting to see some of the world's stars in action.

Regrettably, I have to record the passing of two soccer stalwarts — Mr. Anthony Giordano, founder member and the first secretary of the South Australian Soccer Federation Inc., and Mr. Sylv Phelan, The Advertiser soccer writer, and a member of the S.A.S.F. Transfer Fee Appeals Committee. Both were devoted soccer men and rendered excellent service to the sport.

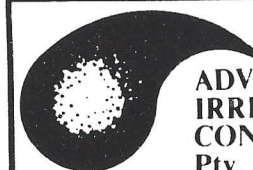

We are extremely grateful to companies who are financially supporting soccer, and I urge all our soccer

P.G.H. Bricks, West End Brewery and Ampol Petroleum Limited, by supporting them and their products.

The daily press, and electronic media is a commodity that we all feel that we are not getting enough of. I must thank them for their support and we all must make every effort in future to provide the media with newsworthy items.

Looking forward to a very successful 1985 season.

Year of NSL confusion ends happily for City and West

By "The Advertiser" soccer writer
Allan Crisp

Adelaide City and West Adelaide represented South Australia in the regionalised 24-team National Soccer League in 1984 amid a haze of instability and indecision.

Much of the confusion arose because 1984 spelt the end of the single league concept and the introduction of Conferences and Inter and Intra play-offs.

Those changes, allied to the introduction of a complex top five finals series, proved to involved for the average soccer supporter to comprehend.

But the bewilderment was not confined to the fans. Even the clubs seemed uncertain as South Melbourne claimed the NSL championship after finishing to of the National Conference and declaring that the play-offs were a separate competition.

Conflicting statements, both official and unofficial, added to the mayhem.

From the start, West and City lined up in the Melbourne-based National Conference faced with the initial threat of regulation.

The clubs, at various stages of the season, also were informed that the two 12-team division system would end in 1985 and would be replaced by a 14-team competition in 1986.

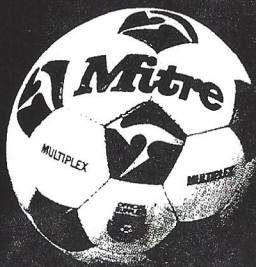

Before the season kicked-off it was announced that British promotions company West Nally would provide a $240,000 cash boost to the NSL.

The money failed to materialise,

Referee Tony Martell sparked a mass protest from West Adelaide players after he disallowed a Graham Honeyman goal during the City v West game at Olympic Sports Field on August 12. the SA teams were protected from demotion but talk of various formats continued Confusion reigned as fans struggled to understand the complexities of the Inter Conference and Intra Conference rounds and just who the heck was playing who on a weekly basis.

But if the fans thought that the Inter and Intra spelt the end of the season-interruptus, they had another big think coming.

Along came the World Soccer Series and a four-week break in the NSL season which sent many clubs to the brink of financial ruin.

City and West weathered the fiscal fiasco through sound business acumen which enabled both to approach 1985 with confidence.

They survived by adopting remarkably similar board room tactics.

The unwritten rule was not to overspend and to give every encouragement to their young talent.

The result was that City reduced a $400,000 debt to $100,000, while West expanded its wealth by selling its North Tereace clubrooms for $765,000 and raising $148,000 from its Miss Hellas quest.

While the committee room battles were being won, it was equally as tough on the field with Edmund Krefft

(City) and Sam Salabasidis (West) faced with similar problems.

After losing 1983 mainstays, Neil Banfield, Glenn Dods, Stewart Blair and Phil Cole, City performed well to finish seventh on the league ladder.

West lost Robbie Dunn and Graham Heys to Preston and ended in 10th place to be safe from the mythical relegation zone.

City allowed itself one extravagance when it imported Italian players Nello Scarpa, Tomasso Talarico and Graziano Tavoni, but only Scarpa proved to have the class and flair to excite the fans.

West and City both blooded several outstanding youngsters, while both continued to encourage their finds of the previous year.

Of the SA pair, West was the most unlucky as it lost top scorer George Konstandopoulos, Steve Atsalas, John Papazoglou and Brenton Hiern for long periods through injury.

City won the local derby honors from West in handsome fashion in 1984 — a contest they will continue with relish this year.

Despite the intense revalry, West and City are united in their overall belief of the NSL concept and the need for the league to continue if soccer is to progress to World Cup standard in Australia.

Doubles to Croatia and Azzurri

By "The Advertiser" soccer writer
Allan Crisp

Doubles to Croatia and Azzurri and a first up major honor to newly promoted Salisbury United.

These were the highlights of the 1984 season as Croatia took out the Rothmans League championship and Coca-Cola Cup double, while Azzurri clinched the Ampol Cup and PGH Federation Cup double and Salisbury won the new West End Premier Cup.

Azzurri defied the odds by retaining the Ampol Cup it so gallantly won in 1983 and rounded off the year in a victorious blaze by downing Campbelltown City 2-1 in the PGH Federation Cup final.

But, in between those triumphs, Azzurri stuttered its way through the league season to finish a dismal 10th on the 12-team ladder.

On its day Azzurri showed it possessed the formula to succeed, but only Croatia had the consistency needed to triumph over 22 league rounds.

With Jack Braidwood at the coaching helm Croatia won the championship by a clear four points from WT Birkalla.

Croatia wrapped up the title with a round to spare and erased the disappointment of the previous year when it lost the championship on goal-difference to Beograd-Woodville.

The latter fell from top to third, but three of 1983's top four, Croatia, Beograd and Para Hills, were still in the upper echelon in 1984.

Polonia, third in 1983, slumped to eighth, while top four's new chum, Birkalla, turned back the glory clock to record its best result in 32 years.

As runner-up, Birkalla was the big improver and it had a rival in that category in Elizabeth City, which under new coach Peter Stanczak, finished 7th in the 12-team field after being 9th on the 10-team ladder in 1983.

Salisbury's effort in finishing in mid-table in its first year in the top division was above and beyond that expected of a promoted side.

And the Berries slapped the icing on the cake when they toppled Birkalla 3-1 in the first leg and drew the second 2-2 to win the West End Premier Cup.

While Croatia's league success was far less dramatic than last year's cliff-hanger, the new champion was, never-the-less involved in a last second drama when it defeated Para Hills 3-2 in the Coca-Cola Cup final in October.

The epic game was decided in the last second of extra-time after the finalists ended the normal 90 minutes locked on a 2-2 scoreline.

Croatia looked to be coasting when Gary Price and Robert Marwe gave it a 2-0 lead after a commanding 28 minutes.

But in the manner befitting a true final, Para Hills fought back with golden goals from Alan Brooks and Mark Harvey to set the grandstand buzzing.

Big utility player Frank Timar grabbed the winner for Croatia in the 110th minute with an unforgettable header to end the memorable match.

Timar was not only Croatia's Coca-Cola Cup winning hero, but he also headed the champion's league goal-scoring list with nine goals.

Many of those goals came when the tall player was stationed in the midfield and some were scored when he played up front.

And Timar underlined his versatility by also deputising as a central defender at various stages of the season.

Croatia gave no hint of its title potential when it lost its opening league game 3-2 to reigning champion Beograd at Woodville West.

and Polonia before earning draws with Para Hills and West Adelaide.

Once into the season there was no holding Croatia which ended the season by scoring 42 league goals.

That was five less than third placed Beograd's tally, but Croatia demonstrated its defensive stability by allowing only 14 goals — the best preeventative record.

Credit for this outstanding rate of denial must go to reliable young goalkeeping Damien Siklich and his defensive colleagues Bernie Bridges, Zoran Maricic, Steve Hutchins and Boris Paleka.

In the main the midfield work-load was shouldered by Steve Caggiano, Robert Marwe, Dragon Ilicic, Zjelko Lesan and Timar, while Price, Paul Blute, Alby Rerich and lively winger Luis Casimiro were the front runners.

When injury and suspension took toll Braidwood placed his faith in youngsters Robert Slager, Tony Blute, Nenad Sosa, John Klein and Robert Dibble.

John Francis Wins Rothmans Medal

John Francis scored a landslide success in polling a record 45 points to win the 1984 Rothmans Medal.

The brilliant Azzurri midfielder finished 18 points ahead of 1980 medalist Garie Dooley of Polonia to fully justify his post count favoritism.

The win had a Boy's Own Annual touch as Francis had announced his retirement after finishing second to Jan Kierno by one point in the 1983 medal voting.

Another former medallist, Adrian Santrac of Beograd, who this year has joined Adelaide City was third with 23 points.

Dynamic Birkalla midfielder Terry Hayes joined Santrac and Kierno as another ex-medallist to finish in the leading 10 vote catchers.

Francis, 32, has the admiration and respect of colleagues and opponents for his competitiveness, skill and vision.

And to emphasise his consistency, Francis polled votes in 19 of the 22 Rothmans League games in 1984.

Apart from his great medal win, Francis also played a significant part in helping Azzurri to win the Ampol Cup and PGH Federation Cup double.

Francis joined Birkalla in 1969 and transferred to Azzurri in 1974.

Three years later he was back at Camden Reserve, but in 1980 returned to Azzurri.

COACHING

BY MIKE WELLS
SASf DIRECTOR OF COACHING

Coaching at all levels and in all forms is about producing results.

However, results can mean more than merely winning matches.

Certainly at national team and senior club levels the winning of matches takes on much greater importance.

At junior levels match results should take a more secondary place behind actual player development. That is helping players develop to their fullest potential in terms of skill and ability with the least amount of pressure.

Developmental coaching, that is the training and education of coaches, can only produce results over a number of years. This is almost at the opposite end of the scale to the team coach who is faced with the week to week challenge.

At the end of the day, however, every form of coaching must have a final product or if you like result.

Before results can be achieved it is necessary to analyse the given situation and come up with a plan or programme which will produce success.

For us to progress further it is necessary to look at 1984 in retrospect and see where the game has gone and what needs to be attended to.

To do this we need to look at both the local and national scene.

It could be argued that 1984 may perhaps be summarised as the year of the good, the bad and the ugly.

In State terms a number of sides produced a very keen season with Croatia leading the way and banking a record amount in prize money. Other clubs to win trophies were Azzurri and Salisbury United with W.T.-Birkalla, Para Hills and Beograd all helping to make it a very interesting if not an attractive season.

Whilst our two NSL sides again struggled and possibly failed to live up to their fullest potential in playing terms, it was nevertheless very pleasing to see Sergio Melta being voted NSL Player of the Year.

The question obviously arises on how a player who has shown so much consistency can not at national team level even rank in the top forty or so players.

Our State Youth and State Junior teams both performed very well, clearly showing that at these levels we are as good as anywhere in Australia.

The sudden upsurge in success at these levels can be attributed to a number of factors. The education and training of junior coaches over a number of years is now paying off, the work of the Technical Commission staff which operates through the SA Sports Institute and the sudden decline in playing standards of the eastern Youth League.

On the deficit side we saw a change in personnel at national team level.

The manner and timing in which Les Scheinflug was replaced cast a heavy shadow over the game initially, however his departure was quickly forgotten with the initial results against the visiting holiday making club sides like Nottingham Forest, Juventus and Manchester United in particular.

All looked well as we prepared for the World Cup elimination games. The subsequent tour of China and Europe however has placed a somewhat different complexion on things.

We are now placed in a similar position to the last two World Cup campaigns. Not only have we again changed "horses" in mid stream but we enter the latter stages with many playing positions in doubt.

Reports clearly show that the recent tour was poorly planned and organised. Whilst the national staff now know who not to play they are still facéd with further experimentation with time running out.

The success of the game in this country depends very much on a successful national team and a viable national competition.

Success breeds success and thereby attracts more interest in the media, amongst spectators and leads to more sponsorship, but just as importantly it produces vital interest and impetus for the players.

The standard and interest in the NSL has declined in recent times and the game badly needs to rekindle the spirit and feeling which abounded in 1974.

Let us hope that the ASF and the NSL can soon resolve their differences and that a joint concerted effort will be able to pave the way towards Australia getting to Mexico in 1986.

The coming season is going to be a very vital one.

Not only will the senior side be vying for a finals place. Our Youth side will also be entering a series of elimination matches with the prize being a place in the Moscow finals.

Many of our youth representatives gained vital experience as members of the U/23 side which defended the Merlion Cup in Singapore late last year.

It was disappointing after two successive wins, two years in a row, to see Australia relinquish this Cup, however the young side which defended the trophy certainly gave their all.

In the "ugly" category there was much concern at the increasing number of incidents involving coaches last term which required disciplinary action. Obviously there is some breakdown in the technical side of the game with coaches blaming referees and vice versa.

This is an area which will need careful watching in 1985 with perhaps a message for both parties to get closer together.

After the Olympic Games and other international success Australia is once again emerging as a sports conscious nation.

Competition for funds, players and spectators is becoming very keen, but in many sports the number of paying spectators is diminishing.

Big events and attractive play however are still capable of drawing the public, and we certainly need to offer a more attractive and entertaining standard of play.

Coaching development in Australia must attempt to find a formula which will produce these vital ingredients coupled with the end results.

There are many fine young players coming through the ranks both in this State and nationally.

This healthy position will only be maintained through the concerted efforts of everyone.

Firstly it is the clubs responsibility to see that this talent is well cared for. This may only come through good administration and good coaching.

Coaches Development

For the eighth year in a row our training output of coaches attending courses of instruction exceeded the annual quota of 180 set by the ASF under the National Coaching Scheme.

During the past 12 months 241 attended courses in this State. The Federation benefited greatly from the support of Elders Lensworth Finance Limited.

Their valued sponsorship enabled the SASF to keep the cost of its courses down to a very affordable level.

Certainly it is true to say that without this type of support then there would have been fewer attendees.

Eleven SASF/Elders Lensworth Coaches Clinics were conducted during the year.

All courses run by the SASF aim to help coaches and prospective coaches to broaden their knowledge of the game, and under guidance improve their ability to coach.

As we enter 1985 it is interesting to note that eight out of 12 Rothmans first division coaches, and nine out of 12 second division coaches have attended accreditation courses run in this State.

Indeed only four coaches from the two divisions do not hold coaching qualifications of any sort.

During the year just concluded advice on coaching was sought by a number of interstate and overseas people and bodies.

Our DOC was invited to become advisor to the Brazilian Football Academy, which has included proof reading a series of coaching books which are being produced for coaches visiting Brazil from third world countries.

An advanced course syllabus and a series of papers were supplied to the Zambia Football Coaches Association through the Zambian High Commission.

Assistance was also given to coaches and government department officials in Tanzania and Zimbabwe.

Under the supervision of Soccer Federation Secretary Mr. Peter Nikolich, PGH Clay Bricks and Pavers sales manager, Mr. George S. Koplin, makes the draw for the Federation Cup semi-finals on K.G.'s Drive Show. The Federation Cup was not available for the draw as it was being "spring cleaned."

PGH boosts sponsorship

PGH Clay Bricks and Pavers have boosted their 1985 sponsorship of the PGH Federation Cup by 20 per cent.

PGH sales manager, Mr. George S. Koplin, said the increase in funds will provide for even stronger promotion of the Cup and soccer generally.

In addition to repeating the successful Player of the Match award, in which the best player from the finals receives a $500 cash award and the perpetual Gold Brick Trophy, further incentives are being considered.

Again this year, the draw for the semi final of the Federation Cup will take place on air on Ken Cunningham's 5DN Drive Show.

Licencing and Registration scheme

At the end of 1984 there were 429 coaches formally registered under this scheme.

This figure was made up as follows: 9 "A" licence holders, 15 "Bs", 31 "Cs", 121 "Ds", 59 "Es" and 112 "Fs" with a further 82 merely registered.

SA still remains the only State running such a scheme despite the fact that the president of the ASF has stated that there should be a national licensing scheme for coaches.

The SA scheme grades coaches according to their qualifications and practical coaching experience.

The aim is really two fold in that it provides coaches with some target and also for appointing clubs and officials to recognise more easily the level attained by each coach.

For coaches there are a number of benefits.

They may attend further courses at reduced rates.

Receive follow-up material on coaching so as to broaden their knowledge further. Seek advice and help on coaching from the SASF.

Many coaches are placed with clubs during the year through this scheme.

Over the past couple of years the most notable achievement has been the Federation's joint development work with SASI.

The achievements of the State Youth and State Junior sides can be directly related to the scholarship system.

Over 20 leading young players were granted SASI scholarships in 1984. They were:

Scott Baird, Simon Green, John Harris, John Klein, Slavko Hancar, Paul Kolesnikowicz, Angelo Giannitto, Kurt Leitner, Ante Loncar, Nick Malavazos, Louis Maratos, Sandy Meggetto, Colin Miller, Tim Mullen, Jimmy O'Connor, John Panagis, Steve Papadopoulos, Alby Rerich, Graeme Schache, Nenad Sosa, Theo Stamatopoulos, Brett Thomson, Alex Tobin and Anthony Ward.

A new crop will be selected with most of the above named having "graduated". Of the younger members Leitner and Mullen will be taking up scholarships at the Australian Institute of Sport in Canberra where they will link up with another fine SA player Louis Hristodoulou.

Scholarships for 1985 will be awarded after the SASF Summer Soccer School being staged at the Flinders University of SA in January.

An ongoing programme will be drawn up and sessions will be conducted with a view to preparing the State Youth side to contest in the National Youth Championships in May.

Sessions will be carried out by members of the SASF Technical Commission under the leadership of the Director of Coaching. Members of the TC include Jack Braidwood, Nick Bojanic, Mario Corti, Nick Joy, John Perin, Uros Zivkovic and Mario Danieli.

State U/16 captain Kurt Leitner holds the Sir Stanley Rous Cup aloft at Hindmarsh.

NATIONAL YOUTH CHAMPIONSHIPS UNDER 19

These championships are recognised by the ASF as part of the Talent Identification Scheme for selection to the National Youth team.

SA for the second year in a row acquitted itself very well and gained a place in the final against Victoria.

The squad as a whole showed far greater maturity and it was pleasing to see a number of players being invited to participate in a number of the final trials for the National Youth team.

Those invited were: Hancar, Kolesnikowicz, Malavazos, Panagis, Stamatelopoulos and Tobin.

Two, namely Panagis and Stamatelopoulos gained national U/23 selection during the year.

All players representing SA held SASI scholarships apart from Sean Greaves from the AIS.

Whilst the squad as a whole must be congratulated special mention must be made of John Panagis, the captain of this side.

Those who represented SA were: Paul Kolesnikowicz, Louis Maratos, Sean Greaves, Alex Tobin, Slavko Hancar, Graeme Schache, Nenad Sosa, Sandy Meggetto, John Klein, Angelo Giannitto, John Panagis, Theo Stamatelopoulos, Colin Miller, Nick Malavazos, Jimmy O'Connor, and Steve Papadopoulos.

Officials — Mike Wells (Manager/Coach), John Perin (Asst. Man./Coach), and Des Thomson (Trainer).

Final placings — 1 Victoria, 2 South Australia, 3 ACT, 4 Western Australia, 5 Queensland, 6 Tasmania, 7 New South Wales, 8 Northern New South Wales.

In paying tribute to the players and officials of both State sides the Federation would also like to express its gratitude to the following sponsors and bodies who all contributed towards the ultimate success.

The SA Government through its Department of Recreation and Sport and the SA Sports Institute, Parabanks Newsfront Newsagency, Adidas, Mitre, Beiersdorf, Bailetti Sports and the Club Sports Shop.

NATIONAL UNDER 16 CHAMPIONSHIPS

The National Junior (U/16) Championships were conducted in Sydney with matches being played at the grounds of St. George and Sydney City.

After a slow start to the championships the side grew in confidence with each game.

The opening game against Queensland was disappointing in the fact that despite dominating the game we were unable to put the ball in the net.

This disappointment carried through to the next game against NSW who were for the best part the better side.

Our third game saw a big improvement against a keen WA side.

The semi final victory over NSW, who at that stage were being described as favourites, was the most convincing win.

The final against Queensland was somewhat of an anti-climax with the diminutive Jimmy Tsialafos capping a fine week with a well taken goal.

Our deserved victory at this level, which was well planned and executed, saw us return with the Sir Stanley Rous Cup for the first time in 13 years, and only our third victory in two decades.

The squad as a whole performed admirably throughout with every player taking part. Captain Kurt Leitner led the side in fine style and was without doubt one of the best players in the tournament.

Those who represented SA were: Steve Niscioli, Con Pazios, Stuart Douglas, Ian Dawson, Graham Latham, Kurt Leitner, Scott Baird, Tony Gasparetto, Con Lipapis, Peter Tanjic, Paul Sanderson, Jimmy Tsialafos, David Hackston, Damien Harley, Mark Abraham and Sean Murphy.

Officials — Mike Wells (Manager/Coach), Nick Bojanic (Asst. Man./Coach), and Nick Joy (Trainer).

Goalscorers — Gasparetto 3, Tsialafos 2.

Results:

Round 1 — Queensland 0, South Australia 0. Western Australia 0, N New South Wales 1. Victoria 1, New South Wales 3. Australian Capital Territory 1, Tasmania 2.

Round 2 — Queensland 3, Western Australia 0. South Australia 1, N New South Wales 1. Victoria 3, Australian Capital Territory 0. New South Wales 4, Tasmania 0.

Round 3 — South Australia 2, Western Australia 1. Queensland 1, N New South Wales 0. New South Wales 4, Australian Capital Territory 1. Victoria 2, Tasmania 0.

Semi-Finals — South Australia 1, New South Wales 0. Queensland 4, Victoria 1.

Final — South Australia 1, Queensland 0.

Final Placings — 1 South Australia, 2 Queensland, 3, New South Wales, 4 Victoria, 5 Western Australia, 6 N New South Wales, 7 Australian Capital Territory, 8 Tasmania.

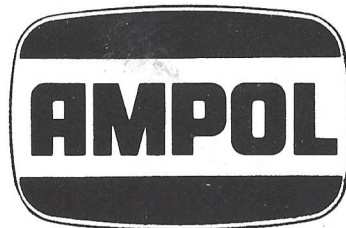

South Australian champions

Olympic Games gold medallists Dean Lukin, Glynis Nunn and Michael Turtur and the 1984 Australian Under 16 soccer champions have one thing in common.

They're all from South Australia.

As well, Nunn and Turtur benefited from the establishment of the South Australian Sports Institute — and the young soccer players who took out the U/16 title are vying for scholarships at SASI next year.

Under the guidance of SASI soccer director Mike Wells, the SA team defeated Queensland 1-0 in the final played at St. George stadium in Sydney.

This fine scheme provides an excellent base for young players to practice and improve their individual ball techniques.

Young players are able to qualify for a number of awards and receive a certificate and cloth badge as a memento of their achievement.

Since the introduction of the scheme back in 1982 well over 3,000 youngsters in SA have participated and gained the various awards.

The total attendees in 1984 was 950.

This figure would have been considerably higher had it not been for a certain amount of confusion during the first quarter regarding changes in the format etc.

Originally the scheme was administered through the ASF however they have now withdrawn in all but name and each State is now required to deal direct with McDonalds.

A number of junior associations have been very active in this field with Elizabeth & Districts JSA and North West JSA leading the way.

Individual clubs such as St. Augustines JSC, West Lakes Primary School and Westlands United from Whyalla have all broken the 150 barrier, with five others all exceeding 100.

Vacation Soccer School alone has tested 300 youngsters for their awards.

All licensed and registered coaches are entitled to conduct the awards and test applicants.

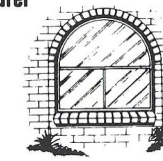

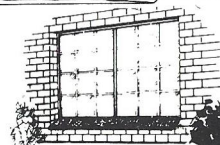

An information booklet is available for purchase from the SASF.

the rich brick that doesn't cost the earth.

Before you make a decision on bricks, whether for home building or a handyman task, come along to a PGH Display Centre and see the difference our rich bricks will make. PGH rich bricks — rich in durable, natural clay, richer in texture, colour, character and warmth. PGH bricks will add prestige and value to your home, yet they don't cost the earth. At a PGH Display Centre you'll see the full range of our fifty one different designs under natural lighting and weather conditions to highlight their subtle difference. PGH rich bricks, used in a wonderful variety of settings and designs to give you exciting ideas for your home.

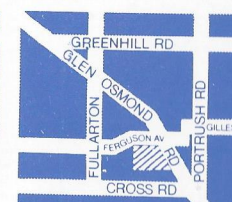

All PGH Display Centres are open 7 days a week and floodlit at night. Come along and see one of the largest selection of bricks in Australia.
